

Mayor's Corner

I hope all of you had a safe and delightful holiday season. I'm looking forward to 2002, and am proud of the accomplishments made in 2001:

- Cook Park to be finished sooner than anticipated, with most improvements completed before the Balloon Festival in June.
- Another section of Fanno Creek Trail was opened and we are working on a section east of Tiedeman.
- The SW 121st and Walnut intersection and the extension of SW Gaarde to Walnut Street were completed.
- Many new trees were planted.
- The commuter rail project was approved at all levels.

Issues facing us in 2002 include:

- A potential new library?
- Is there a realistic way to improve the traffic in our City?
- How can we provide drinking water to our customers over the long-term?
- Will the Bull Mountain area be annexed?

These issues will require public input and well thought-out decisions.

Have a great new year and plan to get involved in your community!

Jim Griffith, Mayor

The Bull Mountain Annexation Study - Open House

The City of Tigard recently completed The Bull Mountain Annexation Study. Staff conducted this study to help Bull Mountain residents and City Council determine the feasibility of annexation. At its November 27 meeting, the Council reviewed the study and indicated they wanted to meet with Bull Mountain residents before deciding how to proceed.

Although not designed to make a recommendation on annexation, the study does provide answers to questions posed by Bull Mountain residents at a meeting last July. It also compares existing service levels and projected service levels based on City standards. The City's cost of providing additional services such as law enforcement, parks, sewer, water, city planning, street improvements, and street maintenance was also evaluated. The Study represents only the first step in this collaborative analysis of annexation. Additional questions raised by the study will be addressed through discussions with residents and the City.

The Bull Mountain Annexation Study can be found on the City's web site at www.ci.tigard.or.us. A reference copy is available at the Tigard Library and City Hall. The study can also be purchased for $5 at City Hall.

Tigard Public Library also has a New Year's resolution - to build a new library for the community. The City Council expects to put a bond measure on the ballot in 2002 to finance construction of a new library near O'Mara Street and Hall Blvd. The Council says a new library is its Number One Goal for Tigard. The Council has involved Tigard citizens in the planning process from the beginning, and your help is needed to determine what features you think a new library should have.

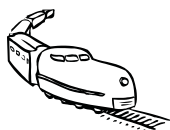

In February, the City will hold community meetings to develop a Site Master Plan. Become a member of the team! Contact Paula Walker at paula@ci.tigard.or.us or at 503-684-6537, ext. 270. Drop questions and suggestions off at the Library. Faster than a speeding bullet? It's not Superman; it's Super Model—the architectural model of what the new Tigard Library might look like. Since it arrived at the Library in late October, the model has been on a busy schedule. It has appeared at a CIT meeting, visited the high school and even attended a Tualatin Valley Community Band concert. Between engagements, the model resides at the library. We're booking the model now for 2002. If you'd like the model to visit your business or organization, contact Connie Martin, at connie@ci.tigard.or.us or 503-684-6537, ext. 279.

Signs, signs, everywhere...

The City of Tigard has a sign code to

- eliminate clutter by limiting the number, size and location of signs
- make signs legible by regulating size and location
- protect pedestrians and drivers by maintaining safe vision clearances near sidewalks, traffic control devices, and at driveway and street corners

Signs are never allowed in the public right-of-way (streets, sidewalks, traffic poles, utility poles, and much of the landscape areas next to streets and sidewalks).

The City of Tigard sign code can be viewed at the City's web site, www.ci.tigard.or.us under the Tigard Development Code, Section 18.780. A reference copy is also available at Tigard City Hall and Tigard Public Library.

Tigard staff and volunteers patrol the City seven days a week in search of illegal signs. Signs in violation are subject to confiscation, tagging with a violation sticker, court citation, and fines.

If you have a sign you would like to display, please call the Planning/Engineering counter at 503-639-4171, ext. 426. For enforcement of illegal sign issues, please contact Christine Darnell, Code Compliance Specialist, at christine@ci.tigard.or.us or at 503-639-4171, ext. 314. To volunteer to remove illegal signs, please contact Susan Koepping, Volunteer Coordinator, at susank@ci.tigard.or.us or at 503-639-4171, ext. 460.

Holiday tree recycling

Give a gift to the environment by recycling your holiday tree this year!

There are several non-profit and charitable organizations that are collecting and recycling trees as fund-raisers.

If you choose to have your garbage hauler recycle your holiday tree during January, please use the following preparation guidelines so the haulers can take the trees to the recycling processor.

- * Trees (6 feet or smaller) can be placed at the curb instead of the yard debris cart, the same day as regular yard debris pickup. This will be collected at no additional cost for your first tree. There will be a fee for additional yard debris materials set out with the tree.

- * No tinsel, tree stands or other added material.
- * Trees over 6 feet tall need to be cut in half.
- * Flocked trees can also be recycled at curbside in Tigard.
- * Greens from wreaths and swags can be recycled in the yard debris cart. Remember to remove all metal and tinsel.

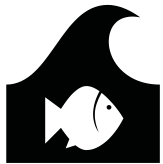

If you wish to have a non-profit or charitable organization pick up your tree, place your tree out on a day other than your regularly scheduled yard debris collection day. This will help avoid confusion between your hauler and the non-profit organization.

Holiday schedule for garbage collection

This holiday season Christmas and New Year's fall on Tuesday. As a result, collection of solid waste and recycling for Monday December 24 and December 31 will remain the same. The collection days for the rest of the week will be one day late.

Fish out of Water...

Tigard offers many exciting environmental educational opportunities to local teachers. These free classroom presentations, videos and activities have been created to support curriculum and to share the importance of the environment with students. Subjects include water conservation, water quality, the water cycle, erosion, wetlands, and Tigard's water system. This year Tigard, Beaverton, Hillsboro, Tualatin Valley Water District, and Earthtone Productions have produced a new interactive stage show for middle school students, Fish out of Water. This is an entertaining and educational stage show that teaches students about water quality and conservation.

Tigard had previously helped develop a regional puppet show, Where's Rosie and last year helped develop As the Faucet Turns.

Where's Rosie is a musical, interactive puppet show about water for first and second graders. As the Faucet Turns is an interactive game show with a strong water conservation message for third, fourth, and fifth graders.

Where's Rosie and As the Faucet Turns have proved to be a very successful and fun way to teach children about the importance of water and water conservation, and we hope to duplicate this success with Fish out of Water. Tigard's Water Conservation Program has been working with Tigard schools to schedule these performances as well as other water education programs.

For more information on Tigard's water conservation program or to receive a free 2002 water conservation calendar made from local children's artwork, contact Sara Danz at sara@ci.tigard.or.us or 503-639-4171, ext. 346. Calendar supplies are limited so don't delay!
